

Something dangerous is going on in this picture. Can you see it? Looks like Grandma is distracted, and baby is getting into some things he shouldn't. If you see this, what would you do?

It's important that bigger kids always keep an eye out for dangerous things, because sometimes grown-ups get distracted. Babies don't always know what's dangerous, but I bet you do! Bigger kids who know what to do should always make sure to pick up small things that a baby could choke on. They always help their mom or dad keep baby away from things that could hurt them. What dangerous things do you know about?
