

Can you tell what is wrong with this picture? It looks like someone is having some Fourth of July fun, but I don't see an adult anywhere in sight, do you? Fireworks are explosives. Not only that, they're FIRE! Two things kids aren't supposed to be playing around with. Some fireworks are OK if you have an adult around to help you. Otherwise, stay away from them. Oh, and one more thing: Be careful with sparklers! Move to an area all by yourself to use them. Many kids lose an eye because another kid is waving a sparkler around and pokes them with it.
