

If you're ever on a floatie that floats out too far, stay calm. Many kids panic and try to get off it in an area where the water is too deep. They end up drowning because they can't touch and can't swim back. So if you're ever in such a situation, stay calm and call for help, but stay on the floatie!

