

Sometimes there are surprises waiting for us in the most unlikely of places. Out of our bleakest moments can come growth and discoveries we never could have imagined. The hardships we endure can give us newfound strength and wisdom. Strange and scary new experiences can lead to wonderful new discoveries and joys we didn't imagine. And often what we think of as bad at the time turns out to be a blessing in disguise. So when life throws us curve balls, the question is: What hidden treasures might you find amidst it all, waiting to be discovered?
