

You probably know what these are. They're mushrooms! But mushrooms you find on the ground are a lot different than those you buy from the store. Many kids don't realize that there are only a few types of mushrooms you can eat. Almost all the rest are poisonous! So if you ever find mushrooms growing on the ground, look all you want – but don't eat them.

