Firefighters can look a little scary in their uniform. They have big heavy clothes, a huge helmet, and a mask. They also breathe from an oxygen tank which makes them sound like Darth-Vader. But all that equipment it there to protect them from the fire, so that they can rescue you! Underneath all that stuff is a nice person who is there to save you. So if there is ever a fire in your house, don't hide from them, go to them.
