Never, ever, EVER play in floodwaters. When rivers or creeks or lakes flood over, it meant there's water in all sorts of places it shouldn't be. Underneath that water, water which is dirty and murky, are all sorts of things that shouldn't be there. Drain pipes to suck you under, sharp debris that the flood has carried with it, perhaps even hungry piranhas. (Ok, probably not piranhas.) But there are all sorts of other dangerous things, So whenever it floods, stay safe, and stay away from floodwaters.
